One word for Thatcher as she opens the Hong Kong Floodgates

LIAR!

"I understand the feelings of those who fear that our country will be swamped by immigration"

MARGARET THATCHER on ITV television April 1979 just weeks before her first General Election victory.

BRITAIN'S PRIME MINISTER is a liar! On December 19th in the House of Commons, Margaret Thatcher sat with her head bowed as she was exposed in front of the TV cameras as a leader who has lied to her people.

Her Home Secretary was informing Parliament of the Government's intention of allowing 300,000 Chinese immigrants from Hong Kong the right of abode in Britain - legislation contrary to all Thatcher's promises on immigration throughout the last ten years.

Norman Tebbit, leading a Tory backbench rebellion, asked Home Secretary Douglas Hurd "Does the pledge the Conservatives have given over the past four General Elections - that there should be no further large-scale immigration - still stand or not?". Hurd refused to answer the question.

Tebbit joins the likes of Tories such as Powell, Proctor, Townsend, Marlow and Dicks who mouth anti-immigration slogans yet have stood by and allowed an alien wedge of five millions coloured immigrants to settle in this country. Immigrants that have come here without permission of the British people and against the wishes of the British people.

Chinese immigrants from Hong Kong have no right of abode in Britain. Neither do Pakistanis, Indians, Africans, West Indians nor Vietnamese boat people. Only British people have the right to live in Britain.

For the last 23 years the National Front has warned the British people of the consequences of coloured immigration. Time and time again we have told the British people the truth when the Tory Party and Labour Party has lied to them. Now once again we warn our people. 'Our country is being taken away from us, immigrant birth-rates mean within two generations we will be a minority within these islands.'

The National Front is the only political party that stands up for the British people. Join with us, work with us, vote for us and help us win back our country!

• Chinese money market dealer, the Tories want him for Britain.

TEBBIT Another Tory Con-Man

NORMAN TEBBIT's outburst in Parliament was nothing to do with making a stance against immigration into our country. It was the first shots fired in his bid for the Tory Party leadership.

Tebbit is a committed multi-racialist. In December 1982 he bitterly opposed restrictions against female immigrants importing their husbands into Britain. During the debate in the Commons he shouted at Tory colleagues supporting the immigration restrictions "You fools! You fools".

Are we now expected to believe Tebbit is the new Enoch Powell?

National Front to Contest Mid-Staffs By-Election

THE NATIONAL Front will be contesting the forthcoming Parliamentary by-election for Mid Staffordshire with NF National Activities Organiser John Hill selected to be the candiate.

The election came about following the death of sitting member Tory John Heddle who took his own life following the collapse of his business interests in the property market.

The constituency is an interesting one for the National Front. Just 30 miles north of Birmingham in contains part of the towns of Lichfield, Stone, Cannock and Stafford all which have small groups of NF supporters. Walsall Branch is on the fringe of the constituency and with the 'have leaflet will travel' motto of Birmingham NF a good election effort looks a distinct possibility.

John's agent, Sam Fairbairn, the Chairman of the Birmingham Branch of the National Front has already drawn up an ambitious programme of activities for the next few weeks and with Salman Rushdie and the Hong Kong immigrants in people's minds at the moment the NF will be pulling out all the stops and fighting a vigorous campaign.

As always with by-elections in areas without a properly running NF branch the campaign has to be funded from central funds. The Administration Dept would be very grateful for any donations to help meet the cost of fighting the election. Please send your donation to The Secretary, P.O.Box 230, Worthing, Sussex BN14 8EG making clear it is for the Mid-Staffordshire by-election campaign.

Scandal of Foreign Aid

by Mark Cotterill

BRITAIN'S OVERSEAS AID budget to developing countries has been going up and up in recent years. Here are a few examples.

Between 1979 and 1985 the Tories gave £113 million to Sri Lanka, to build dams we are told! £119 million was given to India, between 1982 and 1987, for a power station in Rihand and another £20 million for one in Korba.

The Tories have also committed £48 million of our money, over the period 1983 to 1994, to India, to improve housing in the cities of Hyderabad, Indore and Vishakapatam.

Very odd you may think, when Britain has thousands of her own homeless and many more living in sub standard accommodation.

India is doing well out of us. Between 1979 to 1993, the Tories have committed us to £33 million, to construct 2,000 health centres, train 3,000 nurses and midwives (no doubt to cope with their very large families) and improve welfare services, in the state of Orissa.

Would not the money be better spent on our own collapsing NHS.

Still more to come for lucky India, £28 million between 1989 to 1994, for an education project, which will provide 4,500 classrooms and train 150,000 teachers, in the state of Pradesh.

Don't the Tories know our own education system is in a right old mess, due to lack of funds, shortage of good teachers, books and overcrowded classrooms?.

Over the border in Bangladesh, they're not doing too bad either, due to the kindness of the Tories and our money. More than £17 million has been given to them, care of a 'World Bank', to up their annual output of Rice farming.

No help of course to our own poor farmers.

Another £184 million has been earmarked for 88 water supply and sewerage projects around Asia and Africa. Then there's good old emergency aid. £200 million of this has gone to Sudan and Ethiopia since 1984, with a lot more to follow no doubt. Last but not least, of the few examples given here, is £13 million to support AIDS programmes in Africa.

The problem is, even though the Tories are giving away our money so fast you would think it's going out of fashion, the other members of the 'Old Gang' would do no better. The Labour Party and SLD would probably try and give away even more (if that is possible!)

There is only one Party that would spend tax payers money, in Britain, for the good of the British people and that is the National Front.

● Britain's Homeless: Isn't it about time we started looking after them?

Bomber Freed

ON 5TH December, Brian Arthurs who is charged with conspiring to escape from prison and the possession of explosives, was released from prison on bail of £1,000 with £15,000 sureties.

It is alleged that Brian Arthurs is a commanding officer in the Provisional IRA in Co Tyrone. He was released by the High Court in Belfast despite the statement from the prosecution lawyer that "It is felt that if he is released on bail he will not turn up for his trial".

No wonder the IRA continues to thrive and continues to carry out its bomb attacks on army personnel and civilians.

Cheats

● Tom King: Fixing Exams

DEFENCE Secretary, Tom King, has announced that Blacks and Asians will be given special tuition to help them pass the Forces Entrance Examination.

The move follows a failure of efforts to attract ethnic recruits to the services. Of course, British youngsters who have worked hard with a career in the Services in mind will have to pass the exam in the normal way.

Centre

A NEW £300,000 centre for lesbians in Manchester has been given the go-ahead despite the city council facing a cash crisis.

Taxpayers' money will be spent carefully on the project, and every request scrutinised, said counciller Nick Harris, but this is not thought to affect the purchase of mechanical equipment essential to the success of any lesbian centre.

Sacked

A SHOP assistant was sacked from a central London store just before Christmas because she refused to work on a Sunday.

The woman, a committed Christian, said that working on Sunday was against her beliefs and interfered with her worship. the store noted her objections then sacked her.

Sunday trading is against both family and religious life and should be opposed by all British people.

Black

DESPITE making up only 4.4% of the population, one in five of all remand prisoners are Black.

The figure for London is even worse. 38% of remand prisoners are Black.

8% Rise

CRIME ROSE by 8% to 957,000 offences for the quarter from July to September, compared with the same period last year, according to Home Office figures.

What A Way to Treat A World War I Hero!

● Four four years Frank Halstead lived in squalor because he didn't want to ask for welfare.

FIRST WORLD War hero, Frank Halstead, was found outside his council flat sleeping on the entrance steps, penniless and wrapped in newspapers to protect him from the freezing December temperatures.

He had lost his keys and was too proud to ask for help.

Frank had lived in the flat in Kranj Way, Oldham, for four years supporting himself on his pension with no welfare help at all. When neighbours broke down the door to let him in they discovered that he had been living in squalor - forgotten by everyone.

The 90 year-old war veteran who had fought in the trenches in 1918, was taken to a rest home suffering from hypothermia. After a meal and a bath he told social workers his story, apologising for the trouble he had caused, explaining that he didn't contact the council because he didn't want to be a nuisance.

● Frank Halstead: War Veteran

Isn't it time we started looking after the Frank Halstead's of our country, people who have served Britain throughout their lifetime, instead of pouring money down the bottomless pit of foreign aid or falling over backwards to make our island available to every African, Indian, Pakistani, Chinese or West Indian who takes a fancy to it?

IMPORTING DISEASE

SALMON AND trout in Britain are being affected by Infectious Salmon Anaemia thanks to the importation of ungutted salmon and trout from Norway.

Minister of Agriculture, John Gummer, announced in Parliament that the disease is now notifiable in Britain, previously it had only been found in Norway.

A National Front government would not have allowed the importation of salmon and trout into this country because Britain has its own thriving industry. Now though, through the greed for cheaper foreign-bred fish, the whole of Britain's salmon and trout stocks could be decimated.

CORGI TOYS BITE THE DUST

CORGI TOYS, the Swansea-based firm, whose die-cast cars and lorries are the pride and joy of many a British toybox, has been taken over by the American Mattel group who make 'Barbie Dolls'.

So just like Airfix before them, another British toymaking tradition bites the dust. A National Front Government would never have let it happen. All toys bought in Britain would be made in Britain by British workers in British factories, and firms with a reputation like Corgi and Airfix would have taken pride of place in the British toymaking industry.

Queer Goings-on

THE ARCHBISHOP of Canterbury, Robert Runcie, has refused to comment on a report that the Church of England has agreed to allow cleryman to practice homosexual acts.

The report, recognising the sexuality of homosexuals, has been declared 'SECRET' by Lambeth Palace to avoid Bishops discussing it in public and for fear of promoting an anti-homosexual backlash.

● Jean Taylor: Not Black

BLACKS ONLY!

JEAN TAYLOR'S efforts to become a classroom teacher have been turned down because she is not Black.

Jean, a home-help organiser, with Cheetham Social Services, believed a new Government scheme to give £3,000 to employed people to train as teachers in their spare time was ideal for her, but when she applied at Manchester Town Hall she was told by Assistant Education Officer, John Bedford, "The council is only interested in the scheme where it improves the representation of ethnic minorities in teaching".

Main Line To Britain

THE DISMANTLING of border controls in 1992 together with the opening of the Channel Tunnel will result in an influx of heroin and cocaine into Britain.

This has been the opinion of the National Front for some time but now David Mellow, Minister of State at the Home Office has admitted that we were right.

On 7th December he said in the House of Commons that the practical reality was that we could not afford to have "open frontiers with some countries like The Netherlands, because the consequence would be an increase in drugs".

● Channel Tunnel British Exit

Yet, in fact, the government has been steadily step by step making life easier for the drug traffickers. The changes in 1992 will only accelerate this, while the Channel Tunnel will become a gigantic hypodermic syringe injecting a continuous dose of drugs into the streets of Britain.

Already drugs are flooding into Britain as indicated by the numbers of seizures by customs officers: heroin seizures were up from 211 kilos to over 310 kilos last year; cocaine was up from 264 kilos to 392 kilos, while 'crack' seizures have grown from 12 in 1987 to 27 in 1988 and will be over 150 this year.

The changes being introduced by the government of which David Mellor is a member will cause untold misery to thousands more British youngsters.

Bengali

50,000 Immigrant children in Inner London schools speak little or no English, according to a census published by the Inner London Education Authority on December 4th.

One in four schoolchildren in the heart of our nation's capital speak a language other than English at home. The most common is Bengali.

Cut Off

A YOUTH who raped a five year old girl while babysitting had his sentence of nine years jail cut to six by the Court of Appeal on December 7th.

His little victim's mum had a better idea of a just punishment for this animal than the bewigged buffoons on the Bench. She poured boiling water over his genitals, marking him for life.

Under a National Front Government, the child-rapist, Lee Roberts, 20, would have faced only two alternatives on conviction: the death penalty or castration. Whichever he got, one thing is certain - he would never rape a little girl again. . .

Sick

A 44 YEAR-old Tyneside woman admitted selling her six-year-old daughter to men for sex at £5 a time, Newcastle Crown Court was told in early December.

She even watched while one customer undressed and had sex with her little daughter.

Over an eighteen-month period, from January 1987 to July 1988, she subjected the little girl repeatedly to sexual intercourse at the hands of a variety of men.

The mother, for prostituting her own infant daughter, received from the Court the sentence of - three years probation!

Scottish Department

by Kelvin Sanderson

DURING THE last weeks of 1989 the Directorate of the National Front decided that the Party in Scotland was in need of a radical shake-up. The basic problem being that while there was no shortage of members and inquiries from North of the Border there were no active units. What was needed was organisers to wield this support into branches and groups of the National Front.

A two-pronged operation was launched. Firstly members, supporters and inquiries were circulated with a Kitchener-type leaflet entitled - "We want you to organise the National Front in Scotland". This has produced a response and in January discussions will take place in Glasgow with the aim of setting up a unit of the Party in the city.

Secondly the Scottish media were informed of our organiser-recruiting campaign. Several papers expressed an interest, particularly as the NF section set up to deal with Scotland has been called the 'Scottish Development Department'. As readers might know there is a Government body called the Scottish Development Department based in London who were not a little upset about our using the same name. The surrounding controversy brought more media coverage, however, the National Front was not prepared to be associated with such a body as the SDD and so now the section is just called the Scottish Department.

The NFSD has continued to comment on Scottish affairs, declaring the area around the Faslane submarine base a CND-free zone, demanding the deportation of a West African student seeking sanctuary in a Glasgow Church and expressing outrage at the murder of two members of the King's Own Scottish Borderers by the IRA.

So it can be seen that in its short existence the Scottish Department has renewed interest in the NF amongst the Scottish media and taken the first steps on the road to the creation of strong NF branches in Scotland.

Sheffield's Conference Resolution

THE FIRST resolution for the 1990 Annual Conference of the National Front has been received by the Conference Committee.

It comes from the Sheffield Branch of the National Front and concerns Ex-Servicemen and Women and Housing.

The resolution moves;

i) Following the election of a National Front Government and the implementation of our repatriation policy there will be a large number of empty private and council houses in every town.
Servicemen and women disabled in the line of duty should either be given one of these properties, qualify to purchase one at a large discount or be allowed to rent at a peppercorn rent according to the degreee of disability,
ii) Any servicemen or women leaving the armed services should be allowed to buy these properties at a discount comparable with their length of service. ie. 1 years service equal to 3 years council tennancy.
In short we will guarantee all our ex-servicemen and women a decent house on leaving the armed services.

• Birmingham NF members ready to tuck into their Christmas fayre.

Christmas Dinner with Birmingham NF

ON SATURDAY 9th December 50 members and supporters of the Birmingham Branch of the National Front held their traditional Christmas dinner. For £6.50 a head they got a choice of Steak or Turkey for the main course.

After the meal speeches were heard from John Hill, Steve Brady and Sam Fairbairn. Toasts were made to absent friends including Ray Redfern the former Birmingham Branch chairman who died earlier this year. His widow Maisie, was guest of honour at the dinner.

Meeting in Beckenham

BECKENHAM National Front held their first branch meeting on Tuesday December 19th.

The branch has been active for nearly a year but its make-up was very informal, now with increasing membership regular monthly meetings will be held in 1990 helping co-ordinate the National Front efforts in this part of Kent.

• Kester Aspden of York National Front selling in the centre of York next to Labour Party supporters.

Flying The FLAG in York!

NATIONAL FRONT papersales regularly take place in the centre of York on Saturdays despite the NF sellers being outnumbered by as many as 10 to 2 by Labour Party supporters.

Sales also take place at Bootham Crescent, the home of York City FC. On March 3rd when York play Exeter it's hoped that after the papersale a game will take place betwen the York and Exeter NF branches.

Final Episode

ON DECEMBER 18th the final episode in the long-running saga concerning the selling of National Front publications at Stamford Bridge was played out.

At a meeting with Chief Superintendent Sheridan at Fulham Police Station, NF Deputy Chairman Martin Wingfield was told that there was no reason why the NF could not sell papers at Chelsea FC so long as their street-selling permit was in order.

The Senior Police Officer admitted that the attitude of Inpector Schuck had been unhelpful and that there were grounds for complaint against the Officer. However he said that Inspector Schuck was no longer at the station and that a complaint would serve no purpose.

Clearing the Name of the National Front

by Jim Archer

FROM AN initial complaint to the Press Council being made it can take perhaps an exchange of some six letters between interested parties before the actual wording of the complaint is agreed, this taking perhaps two to three weeks.

The latest progress of our complaints is as follows:

- Sunday Times: Exchange of letters; Case made; Accepted; Case proceeding:
- Mail on Sunday: Complaint accepted; Case now in progress.
- The Sun: Exchange of letters between Press Council, Sun Newspaper and myself. My final summary now before Press Council.
- Daily Telegraph: Exchange of letters; Additional information supplied. Case now with Press Council.

I am also looking into correcting Hansard the daily record of events in the House of Commons. Misleading information was given to the House concerning the National Front by Colin Moynihan and Dennis Howell. I wrote to both. A reply from Dennis Howell was not acceptable and I have not had an answer from Colin Moynihan.

I sought advice from the Speaker of the House as to how the misleading information can be corrected but his answer was not very hopeful. It can only be done through an MP or the Press. I am now trying to establish whether or not Hansard comes within the terms of 'a newspaper'.

With regard to proposals and new codes of conduct for the Press I have written to the Press Council chairman, Louis Blom-Cooper, to register as an 'interested party' and therefore have some part in forthcoming discussions.

Please forward to me any reports about the National Front that need correcting. I need the actual newspaper or magazine article as soon as it is published. Please send all correspondence to The Media Monitoring Unit, P.O.Box 230, Worthing, Sussex BN14 8EG.

Well Done

WELL DONE Bolton and Wigan National Front! That was the message from NF Chairman Ian Anderson after the NF demonstration against an IRA march through Manchester at the end of November.

• IRA Scum march in Manchester

The local branch had saved the day when more demonstrators than expected turned up at the re-direction point. They arrived in a 15 seater mini-bus and helped to ferry people into Mostyn to oppose the IRA march.

Because of the large NF turnout Police re-routed the IRA march away from the immigrant area of Mosside which annoyed the marchers because they were expecting support from the Mosside community.

Long-standing NF member John Hamilton is co-ordinating the efforts of the National Front in Bolton and Wigan.

• Santa Claus on the streets of Barnet in North London.

THE NATIONAL Front brought a bit of Christmas cheer to the heart of Mrs Thatcher's constituency on Saturday 16th December.

Fed up the left-wing campaign's against 'war toys', a National Front Santa distributed toy soldiers to boys and soldier dolls to girls in East Finchley.

The soldierly Santa was well-received by the children of Finchley, as indeed were the toys he brought them.

Cardiff Puts Somalis First

CARDIFF CITY Council has called for an extra £42 million from the Welsh Office to cope with housing a flood of Somali refugees expected to arrive in the city over the next three years.

A report to the housing committee predicts that 36,000 refugees fleeing the war in Somaliland are likely to arrive in Cardiff to join relatives in Cardiff's Bluetown area, the largest concentration of Somalis in Britain

Cardiff's Director of Housing Gerald Davies said one of the main problems was finding houses big enough for the Somali families where it is common to have ten or more children.

Cardiff already has a severe housing problems with many young Welsh families forced to live in bed and breakfast residences. The National Front will be writing to the Home Office to find out exactly why these coloured immigrants are being allowed into our country.

Race-Mixing Spreads Disease

RACE-MIXING is spreading the deadly diseases sickle cell anaemia and thalassaemia.

Researchers at Warwick University have found that " . . . although the diseases mainly affect African and Asian people, inter-marriage means they are spreading.". Their report goes on " . . .if we don't act now in 10 years time they will become a serious problem".

There is no cure for the diseases and sufferers rarely live beyond their twenties.

Isn't this just more proof of why Britain needs to stop further coloured immigration and to return home those immigrants already living on our shores.

Finns Buy UK Paper

UK PAPER, Britain's largest paper maker has been taken over by a Finnish rival, Metsa-Serla, one of the largest paper and forest product companies in Finland

UK Paper manufactures fine paper and board products. The take-over will mean job losses at two mills in Kent, another at Donside near Aberdeen and at factories in Harold Hill, Essex.

HOW THE TORIES GIVE HEART TO THE TERRORISTS

• British Soldiers: Along with the people of Ulster they face the brunt of IRA terrorism.

by Ian Anderson

PETER BROOKE must be the most incompetent Conservative MP ever to have held the post of Secretary of State for Northern Ireland. After only being in the job for a few months he demonstrated his lack of grasp of the situation and his lack of resolve by declaring that the IRA "could not be defeated by military means and the security forces could only operate a policy of containment".

He has since attempted to back-track from this Chamberlain-style half heartedness. At the end of November he issued a statement saying that "terrorists cannot win and will not be permitted to win. The Provisional IRA seeks a British withdrawal from Northern Ireland under duress and against the wishes of the majority of those who live there".

So what he is now presumably aiming for is an 'honourable draw'. The attitude of the Tories towards the IRA has always been slippery:-

* The Tories claim that they will not talk with terrorists and yet Willie Whitelaw, Mrs Thatcher's favourite, has sat down with these murderers.

* They claim that they will never give into the threats of terrorism but they have already given them half of what they want by setting up the Anglo-Irish conferences.

* They claim that they never give encouragement to the bombers, yet by the very fact of setting up the Anglo-Irish agreement they have done precisely this.

* They claim that they will do everything necessary to defeat the IRA yet they allow its political wing, Sinn Fein, to function as if it was a normal political party. They allow pro-IRA marches all over Britain at which funds are openly collected for the IRA and they refuse to seal the border with Southern Ireland thus allowing terrorists an easy safe haven.

* They claim that Ulster will remain an integral part of the United Kingdom and yet they strongly resisted the setting up of Conservative Party Associations in the Province.

* They refuse to impose sanctions on Southern Ireland despite the fact that there are 120 known terrorists walking the streets of the Republic.

With a record like this it is hardly surprising that Peter Brooke should blurt out what the Tory leadership is really thinking - that they have no stomach for the fight and they simply want to wash their hands of the problems of Ulster as soon as they can.

National Front Policy on Ulster

NORTHERN IRELAND is, and must always remain an integral part of the British Nation. Those people currently resident in Northern Ireland who refuse to renounce allegiance to an independent Irish state and therefore do not consider themselves to be British will lose their British Citizenship and, as a result, their automatic right to live on British soil, vote in British elections and enjoy British social services. This would enable all IRA activists and their supporters to be removed permanently form the UK.

This removal would, at a stroke, end the strife in Ulster permitting the withdrawal of much of the Army from the Province, leaving only a peace-time garrison.

The powers of the local authorities in Northern Ireland would be restored at the same level as in the remainder of the United Kingdom. The degree of regional devolution within the UK would be left to the people of the Province to decide, in line with the principles outlined in the NF Policy Statament's section on National Sovereignty.

. . . the work of the IRA goes on!

Common Market Gets the Thumbs Down from British Voters

DESPITE The unending stream of pro-EEC propaganda which is being heaped on the British public there is still an overwhelming desire on the part of the British people to remain a separate nation determining our own future.

This is the unmistakeable outcome of a public opinion poll conducted by MORI.

When asked whether more power should be transferred from our Parliament to a European one, 55% were opposed to the idea while only 28% were in favour. Even more overwhelming was the percentage of people opposed to the abolition of customs checks, 58% were against their abolition.

Despite all the propaganda that is bombarding us over the changes which are scheduled for 1992 a surprising number of people - 33% - were even opposed to 'harmonising' tax rates, while 41% wanted to retain a purely British passport, and over 30% wanted Britain to immediately pull out of the EEC.

If the British people were provided with accurate information about the Common Market then these percentages would soar to much higher levels. Very few people in Britain are even aware that many European countries will have nothing to do with the Common Market, countries such as Austria, Switzerland and Norway are not members of the EEC and yet they are among the most prosperous in Europe.

If facts like these were given wider currency then the British people would wake up to the con-job that has been inflicted upon them.

NF Praise For River Authority

ALTHOUGH THE National Front believes that the recently set up National Rivers Authority is going to have only limited success in cleaning up our rivers, we are prepared to give praise where it is due.

At the end of November a small river called the Clyst near Exeter was flooded with about 5,000 gallons of diesel late at night.

Overnight the NRA staff managed to get a specialist firm from Birmingham to put booms across the river to prevent the spread of the oil. Geoff Bateman of the NRA said that "We're going to make the polluters pay" and sure enough the firm responsible was contacted by lawyers and sent a bill for £8,000 to cover the cost of the clean up.

Two other rivers in Devon, the Lyd and the Tamar have suffered similar pollution at night and again the NRA was able to take emergency action in the dead of night.

However these incidents are still only the tip of the iceberg with fertilizer from farms and untreated sewage still pouring into rivers in the South West.

French NF Victory Against the Odds

JUST OVER a year ago the French Government, worried by the French National Front's spectacular rise, abolished proportional representation and replaced it with Britain's first-past-the-post system.

As a result the National Front lost all its MP's.

However far from crushing the party it simply spurred it on to greater efforts. In a parliamentary by-election at Dreux, in Normandy, Mme Stirbois was easily elected. Mme Stirbois is the widow of the former deputy leader of the party who was tragically killed in a car crash and who was one of the greatest exponents of principled racial nationalism.

• Victorious FN Candidate in Dreux

At a second by-election in Marseille the National Front only narrowly failed to get a second MP elected. Their performance was helped by the continuing outcry at the presence of over a million Muslims in France who are demanding that French customs be changed to meet their own requirements and, of course, that Salman Rushdie's book be banned and that he be killed.

The support for racial nationalism in France has continued to grow despite these government tricks to hold them back. You just can't stop an idea when its time has come.

• Red Square, Moscow: The march of Communism through Eastern Europe has now been stemmed.

Nationalism on the March!

CZECHOSLOVAKIA, EAST GERMANY, Estonia, Latvia, Armenia . . all across Europe where Communism was founded it is now in full retreat. Ordinary people have been tearing down the walls of their imprisonment and the driving force behind this assault has been a belief in the right of nations to democratically determine their own future.

This world shattering collapse of Communism started in the USSR when the constituent nations of that evil empire demanded self government. Armenians wanted to be governed by Armenians, Estonians wanted to govern their own land, Latvians sought to decide on their own future, Lithuanians wanted independence from Moscow.

Hardly had these Nationalist movements started to break the chains of Communism than the cry was taken up all over Eastern Europe - Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary all followed.

Yet what is particularly interesting is that while the people of these nations are anxious to cast off the chains of Communism they show little enthusiasm to embrace Western Capitalism.

They are angry about the corruption inherent in any Communism system and about the inefficiency and dictatorship of Communism but have no desire to acquire the greed and graft of Thatcherite Capitalism. All these nations are seeking Nationalist solutions to their problems - governments for and on behalf of all the people. It is perhaps no coincidence that the new governments are often being called National Front governments indicating their emphasis on national unity.

Meanwhile these movements are not being confined to behind the iron curtain. In France the Front Nationale has continued to make good progress. Just over a year ago the French government changed the electoral system from one of proportional representation to one similar to Britain's first past the post system.

Inititally this eliminated all of the Front Nationale's MP's but on the 4th December Madame Stirbois was overwhelmingly elected in Dreux, Normandy as a Front Nationale MP emphasising the continuing growth of the FN despite attempts by the press in France and in Britain to continually write them off.

In Germany the Republicans continue to make advances as do Nationalist movements in Belgium, Scandinavia and other parts of Europe. Outside Europe nationalist movements in America, in South Africa and in Australasia continue to make steady progress.

The message that comes out of this is that Communism has had its day and has failed. It is now dying a rapid death. International capitalism offers no alternative, it is uncaring and fails to give people what they want - control over their own destiny. The power vacuum that is created by the failure of these two systems cannot remain long unfilled.

A new force is begining to emerge all across Europe, the 1990's will see this new political ideology sweep all before it - it is Racial Nationalism.

and here in Britain . . .

The National Front Leads The Way!

IN THE Forefront of the advance of racial nationalism is the National Front. Yet Britain is probably one of the most difficult countries in which to build a racial nationalist political movement. There is no proportional representation, there is a dictatorial and repressive Race Relations Act, small political parties are denied access to television and other parts of the mass media.

Despite all this the National Front has grown substantially over the past 12 months - memberships, the number of branches and the party income have all substantially increased.

SMALL OFFICES

At present we are operating out of small offices in London, Birmingham and on the South Coast. We are intending now to bring some of our national operations together under one roof at a new Head Office in London.

We have been steadily preparing for this:

* Our membership records have recently been computerised;
* We will shortly be acquiring a new fax machine;

* Our stocks of literature and merchandise have grown dramatically.

In May there are local elections and the NF will be fielding candidates all over Britain. We will also be holding marches, rallies, paper sales and other activities in most cities throughout the coming year.

The National Front is Britain's fastest growing political party which says the British people have the right to determine their own future. Join us now and help in our crusade to rescue our nation from the people who are intent on destroying it.

Muslim Marchers Above the Law!

"ARRESTS SHOULD be kept to a minimum and arrests for minor offences avoided with the emphasis on retrospective arrests".

Those were the Operational Orders issued to Policemen by Suffolk Police for the Islamic Community March through Caister on 28th November in protest against Salman Rushdie's book 'The Satanic Verses'

The minor offcences to be ignored were no doubt 'the chanting of death threats, the burning of Union Jack flags, effigies of Salman Rushdie or copies of Satanic Verses, and the carrying of placards or distribution of leaflets which were threatening, offensive or contrary to the Public Order Act 1986.

The confidential Operation Orders also warned of possible counter demonstrations against the Mulsim Community and that Police should allow nothing to jeopardise public order.

So there we have it. Preferential treatment for Muslims living in Britain.

Romania & Panama make it

A Grim End to 1989

THE NATIONAL FRONT was exposing the excesses of President Ceausescu when the Queen was awarding him the Knight's Grand Cross, Royal Order of the Bath on his visit to Britain in 1978.

The FLAG has informed its readers over the years of his nepotism, his destruction of Romanian villages and the ruthlessness of his secret police. We should therefore be joining Margaret Thatcher and the World's Media in congratulating the Romanian people on their execution of the dictator.

But we don't. The murder of Ceausescu and his wife was an atrocity on a par with the atrocities he himself committed, made even worse by the fact that the civilised world accepted the murder without even turning a hair and even applauded the act.

Ceausescu should have been imprisoned and tried along with his whole Government for offences against his people so the full story of his reign of terror could have come out. Instead the dictator was slaughtered. And who was he slaughtered by? Not the people. But former members of his Government and his Army, in some cases the very people who had given him a standing ovation at his party's conference just 14 days earlier!

The whole Romanian revolution stinks; and what stinks even more is the way Margaret Thatcher has condoned the murder of Ceausescu and praised the 'brave Rumanian people and their Army.' Our Prime Minister seems to have forgotten that the Romanian Army for 20 years worked side by side with Ceausescu making his Government possible.

The media played their part too. Giving credence to the announcement just hours prior to the dictator's death that 70,000 people has been killed in the uprising. That was the excuse given for his murder, and it looks pretty sick now that the death toll does not now appear to be more than 2,000. (still tragic enough).

After giving an air of truth to the ridiculous death toll figures the media then desperately tried to find evidence of a lavish lifestyle that Ceausescu was meant to have enjoyed. They found silk pyjamas, a case of whiskey and some meat in a fridge. Later they found that his wife owned two fur coats. These were pathetic attempts to smear the dictator to justify the murder.

Ceausescu's and his Government's crimes against the people should have been heard in a court of law. Instead he was tried by the media after he had been murdered. All Government's should have condemned his murder not praised it. No aid should have been given to people who could perpetrate such an act.

Together with America's invasion of Panama, the events in Romania gave a pretty grim end to 1989. Standards that civilised people must live by to deserve that title 'civilised" went by the board. We were reassured by the media and our politicians, as we tucked into our Christmas turkey, that everything was in order, that the execution of Ceausescu was right.

It wasn't. If we accept it we are condoning cold-blooded murder.

Harking Back to the Old Ways

A LONDON passengers' pressure group has been accused of racism by other transport groups.

The London Passenger Transport League, which claims that 10% of its members work for London Regional Transport and whose literature is on sale at the London Transport Museum is alleged to have a logo that looks like an amalgam of the London Transport and National Front symbols.

But the organisation denies being racist. A spokesman told reporters "We're not consciously racist, we're just harking back to the way things were".

The group's literature is blunt and forthright, on mugging it has this to say, "There is but ONE answer to this problem, which unfortunately we refrain from publishing - the League has enough problems on its hands without being prosecuted under the Race Relations Act".

Horticultural Holocaust

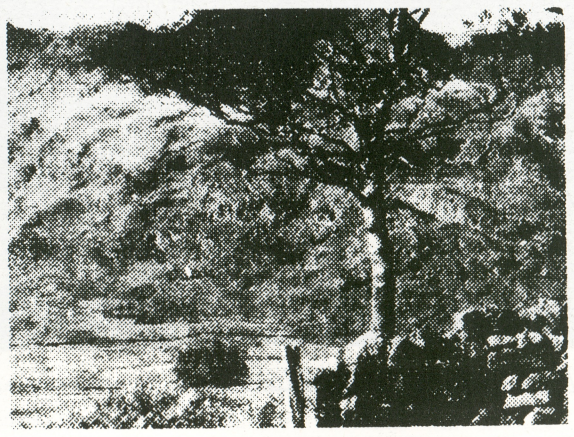
BRITISH FLOWER and vegetable crops are under threat because of plant imports from Holland.

The South American 'Leafminer' fly has arrived in the Netherlands burrowing into the underside of leaves, laying its eggs and causing wilting and stunting in plants. Now the fly is being imported into Britain.

Britain can grow its own horticultural products. We don't need Dutch imports and we don't need the importation of foreign flies either.

Good news for coleopterists (beetle hunters). One of Britain's rarest beetles which has not been seen for more than 60 years and was feared extinct has been discovered. More than 100 'Omophlus Rufitarsis' (It's so rare it doesn't have a common English name) have been found at Chesil Beach in Dorset.

Britain's Record of Pollution is a Disgrace



MRS THATCHER stood up at the United Nations and called for worldwide action to combat the Greenhouse Effect with its attendant global warming.

Britain is quite right to be alarmed about this possibility because just one of its consequences would be a rise in sea level - as an island with plenty of low lying land we are particularly vulnerable.

However it is very easy for Mrs Thatcher to stand up and tell everyone else what to do but her record at home is not so reassuring. According to the Department of Energy's latest report Britain's carbon dioxide emissions - a prime contributor to the greenhouse effect - will rise by 37% over the next 15 years and by 73% within 30 years. These predictions are based on the government's current set of energy policies.

The government has accepted that in order to make a real effort to combat the greenhouse effect the emissions should actually be cut by 20% over the next 15 years. The hollowness of the government's policies is completely exposed when it is realised that the budget for the Energy Efficiency Office is to be frozen for the next three years.

On top of all this the government has announced that it is to spend nearly £6,000 million on new roads so that the number of vehicles pumping out carbon dioxide on our roads can be increased.

The real answer to this problem is to cut down the average journey length of commuters and other road users by moving jobs and industry out of the South East.

So, as usual, Mrs Thatcher has demonstrated her ability to say one thing while doing the exact opposite - just the quality that keeps her at the top of the Conservative Party.

• 1990 will see an increase in the number of cars in Britain pumping out carbon dioxide into the atmosphere.

RUSHDIE MUST DIE!

THE SEARCH for a moderate Muslim goes on. Establishment politicians were hoping it would be the Imam of Manchester, Ahmed Nisar Beg, but they were to be disappointed when he told his followers at the City's Central Mosque that the death sentence against Salman Rushdie must stand.

However there was a glimmer of moderation. The Imam said that he did not mean that "Rushdie should be killed on the streets of Britain".

• Ahmed Nisar Beg, Chief Imam of Manchester: "Death sentence stands"

Imperial Echoes

ISN'T IT strange that nobody in the British media has seen fit to draw a parallel between the American invasion of Panama and the Anglo-French Suez Operation over three decades earlier?

In that case, Egypt had been virtually a British protectorate for over half a century and its nominal ruler, King Farouk, was our compliant stooge.

The Suez Canal had been constructed by the French and very largely financed by the British. However, one Col. Nasser ousted Farouk in an army coup, declared Egypt independent of Britain, and 'nationalised the canal' stating that only shipping that had his approval would be allowed to use it.

We and the French declared that he was a dictator (which he was); that we were the owners of the canal (which we were); that it was an international waterway vital to our overseas interests (which it was), and that he had no right to nationalise it (which was debatable).

So we and the French, with Israeli collusion, launched an attack on the Canal Zone to seize back control and, hopefully, oust Nasser.

The Americans were displeased. We had not asked their permission and they were totally opposed to such naked imperialism.

Furthermore, they did not approve of their NATO allies taking independent action - much preferring that their full and equal partners should do precisely as they were told.

They threatened us with their massive Mediterranean fleet; engineered a run on the French and British currencies; forced our Prime Minister, Anthony Eden, to resign and compelled us into a humiliating withdrawal from Suez.

Similarly, Panama has always been virtually an American protectorate since the USA organised and financed an "independence movement" to detach the territory from Colombia. They financed and built the Panama Canal and operated the Canal Zone on lease from "independent" Panama. Panama has always been governed by their appointed stooges and, indeed, General Noriega was their favoured nominee until he began to exhibit symptoms of independence so, like Col Nasser, he simply had to go.

Having engineered a few incidents, as we did at Suez, America's multi-racial army invaded multi-racial Panama, no doubt delighted at the prospect of being pitted against an enemy they could actually beat for a change. At the time of writing, Gen. Noriega is besieged in the Vatican Embassy, bombarded 24 hours a day by rock music from a battery of ghetto blasters (a cruel and unnatural punishment under the Geneva Convention) and surrounded by American soldiers described as light infantry even though, to my jaundiced eye, they look like exceedingly dark infantry.

Now as an old imperialist, I've nothing against imperialism and could even stomach the American version if only they would admit to being imperialists.

Unfortunately, in their quest for world domination, the Americans stripped the prostrate European countries of their empires after the last war and adopted a highly moral anti-imperialist posture.

Now when they wish to pursue their national interests by bullying smaller nations they are forced to cloak their imperialism in a cloak of canting humbug.

So they devised a scenario that smells like a very bad television script, rejected for being substandard.

They tell us that Noriega is a drugs dealer who, in the style of their Israeli masters, they wish to abduct and put on trial in America. If they had been able to locate him, Noriega would undoubtedly have been shot trying to escape, but having bungled that, they were forced to fall back on that grand old stand-by - the irrefutable evidence found at Noriega's headquarters.

Why, in the very next room to Noriega's office they discovered - wait for it - a million dollars worth of drugs. Gosh!

The drawers of Noriega's desk were crammed with - guess what - pornography. Golly!

There was recent evidence of - no, not that - a voodoo ceremony.

There was a shrine with a picture of - guess who - none other than Adolph Hitler.

At the moment they haven't found conclusive evidence that Noriega is really Martin Bormann but they're working on it.

All total justification for "Operation Just Cause" (Ugh!). Clearly Noriega is a man that nobody could love except, perhaps, drug-crazed, pornography-infested Nazi voodooists and they are believed to be small in number.

The great American public is said to be addicted to junk food so maybe they can swallow this garbage without difficulty. Madam Thatcher believes it too, so she says, which means that either she is simple-minded or, more likely, thinks that we are.

So the Americans will do precisely as they please without bothering to inform their full and equal partners of their intentions. There the parallel with Suez ends.

We will not be deploying our fleet to menace the Americans - I mean, we wouldn't if we had one, would we?

We will not be engineering a run on the dollar - far more likely to be running after it.

As for Madam Thatcher; she gave her unequivocal support to the Americans before she even knew the true situation, thus putting the British Ambassador's life in danger and incurring the hostility of all Latin America without any corresponding benefit to Britain.

She seems to enjoy kissing the arses of American Presidents.

Brave New World

THE GREAT dictator Ceausescu is the latest and, arguably, the worst domino to fall in the extraordinary collapse of Communism in the Eastern Bloc.

Although he was much admired in the West just a few years ago for his valiant stand against Moscow and plied with loans by Western governments; knighted by our very own Queen; feted in all the citadels of freedom; it would be difficult to find anyone now who has a good word to say for him.

Nevertheless, there is something singularly repellent in the manner of his death. Confined, like chickens destined for slaughter, in an armoured car for three days; he and his wife were arraigned for a mock trial before a kangaroo court and then murdered.

Of course Ceausescu was hated. He kept his people on short rations while he exported food and oil to pay off the foreign bankers. He was so successful in this policy that he had virtually succeeded in eliminating his country's international debts. Well that's enough to get him shot for a start.

Now that the awful tyranny has been destroyed, Romanians can look forward to all the good things we in the West take for granted. Why, the very first act of the new government was to abolish the law banning abortion. There's Glory for you!

Lucky Romanians. Now they have freedom they can look forward to abortion clinics on every corner, the Sun on their breakfast table, mortgages, second mortgages, credit cards, strip clubs - why, they'll even be allowed to pay their proper due to the world's bankers, just like the rest of us.

Selective Moralists

BRITAIN HAS just recently played host to the rugby tourists from Fiji. Why not? We're always happy to play against foreign opposition, aren't we.

Nevertheless, you may recall that Fiji is ruled by a military government. It is, moreover, not terribly democratic.

When we had an empire and Fiji was part of it, British planters discovered that the native Fijians were somewhat happy-go-lucky and disinclined to toil in the fields on their behalf.

So, to solve their labour problem, the planters imported Indians by the thousand to work on the plantations. In the manner of their kind, as in Britain now, they bred like hyperactive rabbits and soon outnumbered the native Fijians.

When Fiji was granted independence, against the wishes of the Fijians, the Indians, being in the majority, voted themselves into power.

The native Fijians, however, being somewhat less wimpish than the British, then overthrew the new Government and disenfranchised the Indians saying, in effect, "Just because you breed like rabbits, you are not taking over our country".

Good for them!

However, that is exactly what the White S.Africans have been saying to the Blacks in their country. From being roughly equal in numbers fifty years ago, the Blacks now outnumber the whites five to one. For saying "Just because you breed like rabbits, you are not taking over our country", the Whites have suffered economic sanctions and their rugby teams have been banned from Britain's shores - why, even their schoolboy teams have been harassed, harried and persecuted wherever they went. Yet when the Fijians came to Britain, there was no attempt to ban them; not a whisper of protest; no demand for sanctions; not a single anti-apartheid demonstrator in sight.

What a Toadie!

JOHN CARLISLE the Conservative MP for Luton North must also rate as the foremost groveller to his beloved leader.

On the day of the Conservative Party election for leader he queued up for hours outside the room in the House of Commons so that he would be able to be the first MP to vote for Thatcher.

• John Carlisle: Groveller.

When finally let in he was determined that everyone should know which way he voted so he signed his name under the cross on the ballot paper - and thereby caused his ballot paper to be counted as a 'spoiled paper' and thus his vote was counted as an abstention.

Aren't the people of Luton North lucky to have an MP who not only shows himself to be a snivelling groveller, but who can't even fill in a ballot paper properly.

Arise Sir Liar!

THE NEW Year's Honour's List was a complete joke. How the hell can Frank Bruno be given a MBE. The man gave a new meaning to mediocrity in heavyweight boxing and as a TV personality he is a disaster.

But worst of all is the bestowing of a knighthood on John Smith, Chairman of Liverpool Football Club. That man not only lied about NF involvement in the Heysel Stadium disaster but he was proved to be a liar by the Police investigation.

This country is rapidly becoming a laughing stock. We have got to get rid of Thatcher and get a National Front Government elected before its too late.

Head in the Sand

Britain's media is an ostrich. It just buries its head in the sand when anything to do with the question of Race comes to light.

The latest classic comes from the 'Mail on Sunday' magazine. It refers to the changing faces of those in the limelight during the eighties.

It shows two pictures of Michael Jackson and draws attention to the change in his ears, nose, throat, eyes, lips, hair, cheeks and chin. What it fails to mention is the biggest change the fact that he has gone from black to white!

Talk about the king's new clothes syndrome. Does the British media think we are blind?

Racial Attack

THE GOVERNOR'S Annual Report for Halverden County Primary School in Nelson, Lancs, informs parents that there has been racial attacks at the school.

Headmaster, Mr Casson, called in the local police on October 27th after a group of 30 Pakistani children set on one White lad after school.

Isn't it ironic, if the one boy had been Pakistani and the 30 others White can you image the storm it would have caused. The British people are losing their grip here in Lancashire. There is definitedly one set of guidlines for dealing with Asians and other for the indigenous population.

Gone Fishing with John Hill

Start Them Young!

• It doesn't matter about the size of the fish - the kids love catching them!

WALK AROUND any park or pool during the summer months and you will see loads of youngsters having a go at fishing.

Often, without the guidance of some one older, they fish for an hour or so and catch nothing. Then they start to get bored and that's when the accidents happen.

One incident I witnessed as a youth was when a lad got fed up fishing and started whipping his rod backwards and forwards in the style of a fly-fisherman. The tip caught one of my friends in the eye and caused him to lose his sight in that eye.

The attraction of fishing is there for the younger people but starting off is so important. The classic mistake any budding angler makes is going off to the local toy shop to buy a fishing set. There it is, all presented nicely in fancy packing, a little rod, reel, couple of floats and some hooks.

The rod is too small. the reel to big, the line strong enough to catch a shark with and the floats and hooks are the wrong shape and size. It's little wonder that no fish are caught.

Remember, if you have a son or daughter who wants to start fishing - go to a reputable fishing tackle shop and be advised by them.

NEXT MONTH: Gone Fishing will look at what the beginner should buy and how to catch that first fish.

Black is Black

"THEY ALL look the same", is usually a phrase used by 'racist' Britons about the coloured community. However the multi-racial Labour Party has had its pro-ethnic credentials muddied by an incident that took place in a House of Commons tearoom just before the Christmas recess.

Black MP Paul Boateng had just been promoted to Labour's front bench yet in the Members tearoom Labour MP Ray Powell could be heard congratulating another Black MP Kieth Vaz on that promotion.

When a colleague corrected his mistake, an embarrassed Powell could be heard claiming that the two MPs looked alike.

For the record Boateng is a West Indian and Vaz an Asian!

GASCOIGNE: England's Last Chance

• Gaza: Should be playing

THE WORLD Cup starts in June and England have a tough draw with the Eire, Holland and Egypt. In theory England, as a seeded team, should get through the first round easily, although this will not be the case.

Quite simply, while Bobby Robson remains manager England will be lucky to clear even that first hurdle. His selection for the game against Yugoslavia at Wembley was almost unbelievable, and without Bryan Robson on top form, it would have been a disaster.

Bobby Robson fails to inspire anyone, and appears frightened of those players who show real individual flair. Why on earth is Paul Gascoigne consigned to the 'B' team?

Yes, he is arrogant, flamboyant and greedy for the ball, but he does have drive, initiative and real talent as he showed in the 'B' international.

With Robson's contract extended for yet another year the England team looks doomed to another 12 months mediocrity.

Threat To Scottish Football

ON NOVEMBER 18th in the Scottish Premier Division there were just five games. Yet in those 10 teams there were 25 players from 10 other countries other than Scotland.

This foreign invasion threatens the future of Scottish football with young Scottish players being denied opportunities because continental players take their place.

Scotland have qualified for the World Cup for the last 20 years but they will not continue that run unless the foreign infiltration of the Scottish League football is stopped.

FLAG SPORT UPDATE

Barrow F.C.

BARROW FC, the team 'The FLAG' is following this season to see if they can return to the Fourth Division after an absence of 18 years, have again had mixed fortunes over the last month.

Their results have been brilliant. Home victories over high-flyers Kettering and Kidderminster, away draws with Merthyr and league leaders Darlington, and an away victory at Chorley. Barrow are now 7th in the table 9 points behind the leaders with a game in hand.

The bad news was the loss of Kevin Proctor at Darlington with a broken leg. The match was only his second game of the season after recovering from a similar injury.

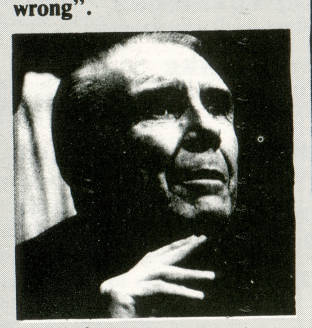
Off the pitch financial matters are still grim. A fund has been launched to replace the stand roof on the popular side after it had to be removed for safety reasons and the Bluebird Social Club in the ground has been put up for sale to meet debts to the breweries of £120,000.

The efforts of Barrow FC have been reported in 'The Times' recently with the reporter warmly applauding the commitment of players and officials of the club for their great efforts on a shoestring budget.

Fogerty

ADAM FOGERTY, 'The FLAG's' adopted heavyweight boxing hope, has received a glowing report from his manager Terry Lawless.

Lawless, the man behind the success of West Indian boxers Frank Bruno and Gary Mason, says of the British hope from Halifax, "For his age Adam is one of the best talents I have ever seen. He has everything going for him and will have a great future as long as nothing goes wrong".



• Lawless

Despite being based for training in London, Fogerty regularly visits Halifax and Lawless wants him to champion the cause of boxing in the North of England moving away from the Southern bias of most fight promoters.

15 Years on They are still Racing's Poor Relations

• 1975: Jockey Willie Carson is dragged from his horse by striking stable lads.

SCANDAL OF BRITAIN'S STABLE LADS!

ON FRIDAY 15th December representatives of the Stable Lads' Association(SLA) reached agreement with the National Trainers' Federation(NTF) on the level of wages to be paid to stable staff from February 1990.

The old rate for workers in Britain's horse-racing stables was a basic wage of £104.78, a meagre £1.21 per hour for looking after up to six thoroughbreds. The SLA has agreed on an increase in the basic wage of £31.00 per week giving stable lads a paltry total wage of £135.78.

It's ironic that Britain's Sport of Kings should have such an imbalance in the financial status of those who take part in the industry. You have the owners on the one hand such as Sheik Mohammed spending millions of pounds on bloodstock and the stable lad on the other working all hours God gave for a pittance.

Both need each other for success in the industry yet there is a massive gulf between them.

Britain's horse-racing industry is in a shocking state. Not only do stable staff work for a pauper's wage, but jockeys, especially jump jockeys risk their lives for an insulting £40 a ride and owners pay £100 a week to keep a horse in training to see it compete for prize money, in some cases below £1,000.

Here we have Britain's £ multi-million racing industry starving those who make-up all aspects of the industry. Why?

It is because racing has a parasite living off it. The leeches that feed off horse-racing are the big off-course bookmakers. They've made £ billions out of horse-racing yet put very little back. Without racing they would die, yet for the last 25 years they have taken, taken, taken from the industry only stopping to return a little small change now and again.

The FLAG believes that the off-course betting industry should be nationalised. The vast profits made from horse-race gambling should be put back into the sport. Prize money for races must reflect the efforts put in by all concerned to get a horse ready to compete and win a race. The industry must acknowledge the risks jockeys take and such organisations as the Injured Jockey Fund must have all the resources it requires made available to it.

• Cyril Stein: The Labroke boss has had his pound of horsemeat.

The Stein's, Coral's, and the Levy's have had more than their pound of flesh from racing. These parasites must now be removed from the industry and British horsing racing allowed to benefit the very people that make it function.

FLAG TIPS

DECEMBER WAS a barren month for The FLAG's punters so now we must change tack in the search for winners.

New Zealand import Valrodian, now with Michael Robinson is a possible contender for top hurdling honours and looks set for victories in January.

The same applies to Atlaal from John Jenkins's Royston Yard. A smart performer on the flat, Atlaal has taken well to hurdling. The final selection for January is Bumble's Folly a three and a half mile chaser with David Barons.

Riot Bribe

TAXPAYERS' MONEY has been squandered on inner city sports facilities that are not being used. That has been the findings of a report entitled Sport and Active Recreation in the Inner Cities.

The main finding of the report is that many of the facilities made available in inner city areas are under-utilized.

Tens of millions of pounds were poured into inner city sports projects in the hope it would take the minds of its coloured immigrant inhabitants off rioting.
